

Ogden Woman Heads Service Star Legion

MRS. J. G. FALCK.

Mrs. J. G. Falck Elected President of State Organization; Mrs. Frances Ryder Also Honored

By the election of Mrs. J. G. Falck to the office of president of the Service Star Legion of Utah, Ogden was honored at the annual convention held in Salt Lake yesterday. Mrs. Falck was formerly state organizer and has twelve chapters to her credit. Mrs. Frances Ryder of Ogden was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. Layton of Layton, recording secretary. Other Ogden women who attended the convention included Mrs. J. U. Eldredge, Jr., president of the local chapter; Mrs. E. H. Winter, treasurer; Mrs. Alice Collins; Mrs. David Eccles; Mrs. E. L. Guthrie; Mrs. Chris Flygare; Mrs. D. S. Clark; Mrs. Charles Lippincott; Mrs. Glennie Felt and Mrs. Edward Bichard.

Mrs. Olsen of Price was chosen as state organizer to succeed Mrs. Falck, and Mrs. Stephenson of Provo was elected chairman of the Gold Star division of the state. Chapters not represented on the executive board were given an office of honorary vice president.

In her annual address Mrs. W. C. Jennings, the retiring president, congratulated the state organizer in having twelve chapters to present at the convention. These chapters are located in the northern part of the state and with the election of a new state organizer, Mrs. Price gives an opportunity for the organizing of chapters in the southern part of the state.

TWELVE CHAPTERS

The twelve chapters organized under the supervision of Mrs. Falck are Ogden, Salt Lake, Logan, Brigham, Lehi, Provo, American Fork, Springville, Mount Pleasant, Milford, and Beaver.

One hundred war mothers attended the convention from all parts of the state. A social feature of the convention was a luncheon at noon in the upper rooms of the Hotel Utah. At the afternoon session addresses were delivered by Senator Reed Smoot, Governor-elect Charles R. Mabey and Murray W. McCarthy, state commander of the American Legion.

The policy for the coming year, Mrs. Falck says, will be constructive work for the future rather than looking back upon the past. Much time will be devoted to the wounded men in hospitals and emphasizing of the rules of the flag.

MORNING SESSION

The morning session was given entirely to reports by officers of the organization and amending of the by-laws and constitution. Mrs. W. C. Jennings gave the annual president's address announcing two new chapters which have recently come into the organization. The present state roster of state chapters amounts to 22, with other prospects reported.

Reports were also given by Recording Secretary J. E. Cotter of Lehi, Mrs. Steve Hallstrom of Logan and by the nominating committee, with Mrs. C. S. Kinney as chairman. The report of Mrs. J. D. Spencer, state treasurer, now absent from the state, was read at the session.

RICH MAN HELD IN 'TRUST' PROBE

Mayor Hylan May Be Called Before Investigators in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Arraignment of George Backer, millionaire building contractor on an indictment charging perjury in giving testimony before the joint legislative committee investigating the alleged "building trust" here and a threat by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, to summon Mayor Hylan to explain failure to cancel contracts for new city buildings were developments in the inquiry today.

BACKER RELEASED. Backer was released under $15,000 bail and directed to appear again Monday in the court of general sessions to plead. The indictment charges him with perjury in first testifying that he rambled away $15,000 given him by Ephraim Levy, another builder, and later admitting he had paid the money to "two strangers who looked like workmen." Backer, according to witnesses acted as "go-between" among contractors and laborers.

MAY CALL MAYOR

Mr. Untermyer's threat to call the mayor before the committee was contained in a letter to Comptroller Craig made public tonight. The counsel for the committee declared he understands work is proceeding on contracts "that are based on collusive bids" and that it is time steps were taken "to prevent the further mulcting of the city." He proposed "a permanent non-partisan vigilance committee" removed from politics with a staff of accounts and experts "to check the city officials on the vast business that is being transacted for the city."

The committee held no hearings today the sessions having been adjourned until next Tuesday to permit examination of the evidence that is being gathered. Counsel for the committee continued active, however.

Babies $100 in Texas, She Says

DALLAS, Tex.—The price of babies is $100 in Dallas. A thriving trade in newborn children is carried on by maternity homes here, according to Miss Alecia Brown, director of public welfare, who is asking the city commission for an ordinance regulating such trading.

"One man carries his stock in trade—babies—to the union station in a basket and vends them like a peddler of shoe laces," said Miss Brown.

"When the baby business is slow in Dallas this enterprising merchant goes on the road with pictures of his wares as samples, and sells children all over Texas."

JAPAN PARLEY SEEMS ENDED

Ambassador Morris Given Sixty-Day Leave of Absence From Duties

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Announcement today by the state department that Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, had been given a sixty-day leave of absence was taken as an indication that the negotiations with Baron Shidehara, Japanese ambassador, regarding the anti-alias legislation in California practically had been completed.

Mr. Morris who returned from Tokyo in June has been carrying on the discussions with the Japanese ambassador, and it is believed that details of the new treaty with Japan, based on the California law adopted in Tuesday's election have been agreed upon. When the treaty is put in final form it will be referred for approval by the two governments.

State department officials would not say whether the negotiations had been ended, nor would they add to the announcement concerning Mr. Morris' leave of absence, further than to say that it had no particular significance.

ALL AMERICANS, HARDING SAYS

After Election We Cease to Be Partisans, President-Elect Declares

PARIS, Ill., Nov. 6.—President-elect W. G. Harding, en route to Point Isabel, Texas, stopped in Paris five minutes today to greet a crowd of about 2,000 persons gathered at the depot to see his train pass through.

Responding to a request for a speech, he declared that "in our form of popular government, when a majority has spoken we cease to be Democrats and Republicans in the party sense of those terms. But we all become Americans and for America first."

"For my part," he continued, "I do not want my party to seek mainly to keep itself in power or to perpetuate the place holding of any man, but to work to make America the best place in the world in which to live. We can place our country on the right track. I know we can for the heart of America is sound and true and working together, we can make America go forward."

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER Eat Less Meat. Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clock you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you will be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will be all right.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts in inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

UTAH'S FINEST THEATRE
BIG NEW DOUBLE FEATURE BILL BEGINS TODAY

Mary Miles Minter and Theodore Roberts IN THEIR NEWEST SUCCESS "Sweet Lavender"

Well, perhaps you laugh at those days now, but down deep in your heart you know you hold that first dizzy love affair as one of your most precious memories.

Mad vows, strange shyness dogged loyalty, foolish raptures—remember all the heights and depths of that first great experience with life?

So it was with Lavender. It was all her step-mother's fault, any way—she had no business to keep boarders in a college town with a pretty girl like that around. Recall your youth, revive yourself, laugh and cry.

HERE ARE A FEW SCENES WITH PUNCHES

A comedy of youthful love and elderly meddling.

A comedy that proves it's no use shutting a lovesick girl up in a boarding school unless you remove the fire escapes.

The story of a sweet, old-fashioned love affair and a girl with a sweet old-fashioned name.

The story of a girl whose personality was as sweet as the flower name she bore.

One of England's most famous stage successes played by one of America's best loved stars—Mary Miles Minter in Pinero's "Sweet Lavender."

The landlady shouldn't have had such a lovely daughter as Lavender if she didn't want the roomers to fall in love.

She may be a sweet shy thing, but when she puts on boy's clothes, climbs out of the window at midnight and hits the trail—watch out!

Her name was that of a gentle flower, but her loyalty to the man she loved was as stubborn as though she had been baptized Eliza Jane.

Her name was Lavender—but she herself was true blue.

Make no mistake about these tender, shy, gentle women; they have strong wills and stubborn loyalties, as Lavender's father discovered.

A comedy which proves that the best plans of mice and match-makers gang aft agley.

They all knew how to pick out a good wife for Clem, but he wasn't interested in wives. What he wanted was a sweetheart—the kind of sweetheart that only Lavender knew how to be.

Sweet Lavender—not Lavender and old lace, but Lavender and young love. Quite a different combination, you will admit.

Sweet Lavender—does that make you think of your grandmother's treasure chest? She made Clem think she was a treasure, you may be sure.

Puppy love? Well, maybe. But you've heard how a puppy holds on to a root. Even puppies know what they want.

Her name was Lavender, but she could behave like a regular pepper box.
